Guest Lecturer

VIRGINIE MERCIER is Full Professor of Private Law and member of the Centre for Economic Law at the Faculty of Law and Political Science of the University of Aix-Marseille (France), where she directs the Institute of Environmental and Sustainable Development Law (IDEDD) and the Master's programme in Banking and Asset Management Law. She recently won a selection as Visiting Researcher at the Department of Legal Sciences (School of Law) of the University of Salerno. Since 2009, she organises the annual "Encounters on economic environmental law". As evidenced by her participation in numerous conferences and publications, Prof. Mercier's research focuses on environmental law, the obligations and responsibilities of entities arising from environmental law, corporate social responsibility, and civil liability in connection with environmental law and sustainable development. Her international academic activities include cooperation with the Centre de droit des affaires et du commerce international at the University of Montreal (Canada). In connection with this partnership, she directs the Summer School "Gouvernance environnementale et sociétale de l'entreprise – Approche européenne" (Environmental and societal governance of business – A European approach). She is a member of the Advisory Board of the International & European Criminal Law Observatory on Cultural Issues, Human Rights, and Security (IECLO), and guest lecturer in the Jean Monnet Module EU-GLOBACT (2023-2026). Since 2019, she has presided over the "RSE Eloquence" competition, organised in partnership with the University of Haute Alsace, which invites law students from different French universities, working in teams, to present expert analyses related to corporate social responsibility.
